Blue Cow Software Ranked #1 Computer Software by Propane Retailers in New England

LYNNFIELD, MA – Blue Cow Software has been ranked as the most prominently used software company by propane retailers in the six-state New England region. This is the second consecutive year that Blue Cow Software has ranked first for this category.

The distinction comes from Gray, Gray, & Gray Certified Public Accountants' 2017 Annual Propane Industry Survey in which they "provide a 'snapshot' of the propane industry's financial and operational best practices," according to the survey overview.

Blue Cow Software's first place ranking was determined by propane retailers who were asked to identify the computer software used to run their business. Blue Cow Software ranked in first place among nine total contenders.

"We are happy to receive this distinction for the second year," said Mark Nardone, President and Owner of Blue Cow Software. "It supports our goal of making the fuel oil and propane industries better, starting with the core if it all – the retailers. We are honored to have hundreds of retailers across the United States and Canada in the Blue Cow Software family and we look forward to continued growth and success in 2018."

About Blue Cow Software

Blue Cow Software was established in 2004 with the goal of creating software that would provide powerful – yet practical – tools for fuel oil and propane dealers. This led to the development of the Ignite® software suite, with components designed to improve efficiency and put control of business operations into a comprehensive platform that was easy to use and could grow with business.

Today, Blue Cow Software is the business management software suite of choice for hundreds of fuel oil, propane, and HVAC companies in the United States and Canada. Blue Cow Software continues to stay on top of industry trends and best practices, incorporating updates and upgrades across the Ignite® suite to better help users gain stronger than ever control over their business operations.
