Blue Cow Software Gives Back

LYNNFIELD, MA – This season is a difficult time for people who do not have families or homes to spend the holidays with in warmth. According to Children's Rights, an organization defending America's abused and neglected children, there are over 400,000 children in the United States' foster care system. To give back to society and to alleviate the difficulty that this time of year poses on children in foster care, Blue Cow Software has donated hundreds of dollars of baked goods and pastries from Spinelli's Pasta and Pastry Shop to the Plummer Home for Boys.

The Plummer Home for Boys, now more commonly known as the Plummer Youth Promise, is a foster home in Salem, Massachusetts that serves youth in the foster care system. The Plummer Home provides its youth with the education and community connections needed to rise out of the foster system and by matching its residents with engaged and supportive families.

"We recognize that not everyone has the same privileges that we do during this time of year and, at Blue Cow Software, it's an integral part of our business to give back to the local community," said Deena Doyle, Operations Manager at Blue Cow Software. "Seeing the boys at the Plummer Home with smiles on their faces and knowing that we can make a difference in their lives is important."

Throughout the year Blue Cow Software participates in fundraisers and food/goods drives to benefit local organizations and relief funds across the country. Please contact Roxanne Hesh at rhesh@bluecowsoftware.com for inquiries.
