Fuel Oil and Propane Marketers Can Now Run More Efficiently with Sage Intacct

LYNNFIELD, MA – Blue Cow Software, Inc. is proud to announce a new interface to Sage Intacct, the leading cloud financial management solution.

“Many Ignite Software users are looking for an accounting software that can handle multi-dimensional reporting so they can break down reports by their office locations or businesses,” said Nick Quaratiello, Blue Cow Software’s Vice President of Operations. “We are happy that this new interface with Sage Intacct will provide what our larger clients are looking for.”

Blue Cow Software is partnering with the accounting firm Gray, Gray & Gray to distribute Sage Intacct to the energy industry. “We are proud to offer the Sage Intacct solution and serve as implementation specialists. Sage Intacct’s dimensional capability and entity consolidations allow businesses to get their full and accurate financial picture from virtually anywhere, at any time, which is essential to achieving profitable growth,” said Christy Oles, Business Systems Advisor at Gray, Gray & Gray.

“Gray, Gray & Gray is the industry’s premier accounting firm and the dashboards they created inside Sage Intacct allow CFOs and owners to see how their business is performing in real time,” said Quaratiello.

Energy marketers who are outgrowing their current accounting software, looking to enhance their in-house accounting, or who are over-reliant on spreadsheets should contact Gray, Gray & Gray about Sage Intacct.
